

PUBLIC LEDGER

FIFTH YEAR.

MAYSVILLE, KY., SATURDAY, JANUARY 18, 1896.

ONE CENT.

If you have friends visiting you, or if you are going away on a visit, please drop us a note to that effect.

Captain J. H. Myers of Licking is in the city for a few days.

The Rev. Father Kehoe of Covington is visiting Rev. A. T. Ettin.

Mrs. Barbara Clark is visiting her daughter, Mrs. John Hise of Cincinnati.

Mrs. Herbert Reno of Cincinnati is visiting her mother, Mrs. John Hise.

Mrs. James H. Purnell of Middleborough is visiting relatives here and at Germantown.

Miss Ada Day has returned home after spending several days with her sister, Mrs. Conard.

Miss Susanne Clark has returned home after spending several weeks with Margaret Hardiman of New York.

Mr. Albert Greenwood of Knoxville, Tenn., after a brief visit to friends and relatives, leaves today for home.

Mr. Edgar Mitchell, Agent of the L. and N. at Maysville, is here at the bedside of his father, Dr. John A. Mitchell.

Mr. and Mrs. N. Rosenau arrived home yesterday from Philadelphia for a week's visit to Mr. and Mrs. Simon Rosenau.

Messrs. John Chisholm and Charles Buchanan of Paris returned home yesterday after a pleasant visit to friends in this city.

Mr. Wylie E. Shuster, who has been attending school at Kentucky University, has been called home by the illness of his father.

Mr. George W. Daubon of Plummer's Landing, foreman in Healy & Lyon's Hemp Factory in this city before the war, is visiting his nephew, Mr. Delmore Daubon of the Fifth Ward.

Very Personal.—Change on drug letters, whether paid or not, is 5 cents. Many persons and their notes through the Postoffice with only 1 cent stamp. These are "held for postage." Hereafter they must contain a cent stamp.

Miss Edith Ballenger, after a severe illness, is improving.

The Long Distance Telephone Company has opened an office at Ownbrough.

Joe Frazier has been elected Captain of the State College Ball Club at Lexington.

Master Stanley Willcutt, who has been ill for the past three weeks, is somewhat better.

The Oddfellows' Funeral Aid Association will meet in regular annual session at Oddfellows Hall Monday evening at 7 o'clock.

The Southern Theological Seminary at Louisville has just enrolled its three hundred students.

Mrs. Andy McDowell, aged 57, a former resident of this county, died a few days since at her home in Carlisle.

To remove dread from the scamp, citizens have organized a vitalization drive, to weak, aged and poor men, Aver's Hair Vigor. It has no equal in merit as a hair dresser and for the prevention of baldness, scalp ulcers and dandruff.

The Farmers' National Bank of Portsmouth was yesterday closed by Bank Examiner W. E. Baden, pending an examination of its affairs. It is thought it will be allowed to resume. Its capital is $250,000.

Mr. James Maddox, a well known farmer, died yesterday at his home near Mayfield after a short illness. He leaves a wife and one daughter. The funeral will take place Sunday at 10 a.m. from his late residence with services by the Rev. J. D. Redd. Burial at Shannon.

Mr. Henry E. Clinkenbeard, the general cutter for Red Cross Clothier Co., Elkhorn, Ky., continues to give with the power of making warm friends wherever he goes, leaves today for New York City, where he will take a thorough course in the cutting school, as he believes in keeping fully abreast the present fast times.

BIRTHDAY ANNIVERSARY.

The Home of Councilman Dressed the Scene of Enjoyment.

Last evening Miss Alta L. Dressed, one of Mayville's most beautiful young ladies, reached her 17th anniversary.

And the home of her father, Councilman Fred Dressed of the Sixth Ward,

Was the scene of much enjoyment.

A large number of Miss Alta's friends gathered to greet and congratulate her, and at 10 o'clock a delightful luncheon was served.

It was indeed a pleasant event, and all departed with regrets at the shortness of the happy hour.

LEDGER

CHURCH CHIMES.

Announcements for Services of the Various Churches Tomorrow.

Don't forget the Y. M. C. A. at 6 p.m.

The following services will be held at the Methodist Episcopal Church, Third street, opposite Courthouse: Sunday school at 9 a.m.; meeting at 10:30 a.m.; class meeting at 4:30 p.m.; Epworth League at 6 p.m.; preaching at 7 p.m. All are invited. Strangers will find a homelike welcome. E. L. SHEPARD.

Services in the First Presbyterian Church tomorrow morning and night at the usual hours, conducted by the Pastor, Rev. John S. Hays, D.D.

Church Sabbath school at 9:30 a.m.; Mission Sabbath school in the German school at 3:30 p.m.; Westminster Society of Christian Endeavor at 6:15 p.m.

Church of the Disciples—Sunday school at 9:30 a.m.; preaching at 10:45 a.m.; 7 p.m.; Y. M. C. S. C. E. at 6:15 p.m. Prayer meeting Thursday at 7:30 p.m.; Junior Endeavor at close of Sunday school, Morning subject—"The Great Cancer is Human Life; It's Betterment and Enlargement." Night sermon theme—"Can a Dead Language Explain the Thought and Power of the Living Present?"

Services are held in Sedden M. E. Church on Forest avenue as follows: Preaching every second and fourth Sunday at 10:30 a.m. and 7:30 p.m.; Sunday school every Sunday at 9:30 a.m.; Class Meeting every first and third Sunday at 10:30 a.m.; Epworth League services every Friday and every other Sunday evening. A welcome to all.

N. G. GRIESEL, Pastor.

Services have been held here and have been called out at night and whipped, and two have been shot. The entire population is aroused, and the citizens insist that they will back the officers against the friends of the prisoners. Serious trouble is feared.

KENTUCKY NEWS.

The Latest News From All Parts of the Commonwealth.

GENERAL ASSEMBLY.

Penalty for Non-delivery of Telegraphic Messages.

FRANKFORT, Jan. 18.—Senate The Senate was occupied during nearly all of its session with the consideration of bills of little or no importance. Proceedings in both houses were strangely free from politics, and legislation was the main topic of discussion a subject of comment. Adjourned until Monday.

The house was opened on schedule time Friday and a large number of important bills were introduced. Among them was one to prohibit the sale of liquor in Marion, Campbell county, a town of the sixth class. Clark, of Warren, introduced a bill allowing the postmaster to charge extra postage for the non-delivery of messages. Most of the other bills introduced were practically the same as those introduced last year. Several bills were reported favorably on by the judiciary committee and moved up on the calendar. Adjourned until Monday.

PRINCETON JAIL.

Borrowed by a Guard—Whitehead Arrests.

PRINCETON, Ky., Jan. 18.—Excitement over the Whitehead arrests here is worked up to fever heat. Twenty-seven arrests have been made and the men are now in jail. The authorities are again gathering strength, and groups of excited men meet in the street and angrily discuss the situation. So threatening have these meetings become that it is feared that an attempt will be made to storm the jail, take the prisoners, and inflict summary punishment. The building is now surrounded by a special guard. The arrests were made on information given by a man who was driven out of the town on the "regulators." He, it seems, communicated with Judge Moore, who assured him of protection if he would return and prosecute those he knew to be engaged in this affair.

Services are held in Sedden M. E. Church on Forest avenue as follows: Preaching every second and fourth Sunday at 10:30 a.m. and 7:30 p.m.; Sunday school every Sunday at 9:30 a.m.; Class Meeting every first and third Sunday at 10:30 a.m.; Epworth League services every Friday and every other Sunday evening. A welcome to all.

N. G. GRIESEL, Pastor.

Services have been called out at night and whipped, and two have been shot. The entire population is aroused, and the citizens insist that they will back the officers against the friends of the prisoners. Serious trouble is feared.

Prisoners at Versailles.

VERSAILLES, Ky., Jan. 18.—After breaking into Young & Williams' machine shop and stealing a set of tools, burglars early Friday morning effected an entrance into the Louisville Safe Deposit Co. and stole the large double door safe. Fortunately, Agent Nutlance had made a big deposit in the bank Thursday of the railroad company's funds, and the visitors were unable to get more than $40 and $50. They also stole the deposit hand car and made their escape toward Louisville.

Delinquent Sheriff.

FRANKFORT, Ky., Jan. 18.—John R. Shunkle, Jr. was Friday morning appointed to succeed John E. Flanagan as sheriff of Johnson county. Flanagan, a former member of the legislature, had failed to file his annual report.

The subject will lead the meeting, and those who heard it were loud in their praises. He will preach this afternoon at 3 o'clock at this church and tonight at 7 o'clock will preach at the West End Mission.

Tomorrow he will preach at 10:30 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. at the Central Presbyterian Church, to which everybody is invited.

These services are growing in interest. All the other services of this church will be held in the usual hours.

J. S. SIMS, Pastor.

The Y. M. C. A. will hold the regular Sunday afternoon Gospel Meeting at 3 o'clock in the hall in Cox Building.

Rev. John G. Anderson, the most eloquent Minister of this state, will lead the meeting, and you cannot afford to miss hearing his delightful speech.

The subject will be "The Ministry of John the Baptist." Let every member work to try and arrange matters in order that they can attend these afternoon meetings every Sabbath in the year.

The Pastors of the various churches are requested to pray for the success of the meeting.

There is room and reading matter for all.

Rev. John G. Anderson preached an other powerful sermon last night at the Central Presbyterian Church, and a good audience. His talk was not only instructive but it was convincing, and those who heard it were loud in their praises. He will preach this afternoon at 3 o'clock at this church and tonight at 7 o'clock will preach at the West End Mission.

Tomorrow he will preach at 10:30 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. at the Central Presbyterian Church, to which everybody is invited.

These services are growing in interest. All the other services of this church will be held in the usual hours.

J. S. SIMS, Pastor.

We offer One Hundred Dollars Reward for capture of Cather or that cannot be cured by Hail's Cure.

F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.

We the undersigned have had John E. Flanagan for the last 18 years, and believe him perfectly honorable in his conduct and financially able to carry out any obligation made by them in his behalf.

W. A. THOMAS, Wholesale Druggist, Toledo, O.; WILSON, KINNAN & MARVIN, Wholesale Druggists, Toledo, O.; HALE & CO., Wholesale Druggists, Toledo, O.; STANTON & CO., Wholesale Druggists, Toledo, O.

A. W. HARRIS, druggist, Toledo, O., and all druggists.

William E. Edwards and Miss Nellie Maher are among the recent Buirton county marriages.

P. O. Collins, pension attorney, has received over $10,000 in pensions for Bath county people in the past sixty days.

Miss Julia Morford Durum has filed a suit for divorce from her husband, Walter Scott Durum. They were married in Covington in November, 1894.

Mr. John Means of Ashland and the Water Supply Company constraining further payments by the city to the Water Supply Company and to set aside the contract on the grounds of illegality and that the contract was obtained by fraud.

The sick man knocking at the door of health gets it if he knocks the right way, and stays away if he does not. There are many ways of getting sick but only one way to get well.

Do what ever you will, if you do not your digestion will be deranged, and make your body weak and porous.

High, pure blood is the only thing that can bring perfect health. Constipation is a disease of the blood. A large amount of water in the blood, and can be cured by eliminating this with Dr. Pearce's Golden Medical Discoveries.

The first thing is to purify the whole digestive system.

It removes a copious secretion of digested fluids and promotes assimilation.

It scourges out disease germs wherever they may be, kills them and forces them out of the body. The "Golden Medical Discoveries" has been used with unvarying success for over 20 years.

Found in the Canal.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Jan. 18.—The body of a well dressed woman, found in the canal at the foot of Thirteenth street Friday morning, had the appearance of having been in the water for fully a week. About a week ago the body of a man was found floating in the canal about the point where the woman's body was discovered. The coroner thinks the suicide was its mother.

Recovered Himself in the River.

FRANKFORT, Ky., Jan. 18.—An unknown man was seen struggling in the Kentucky river under the L. & N. bridge early Friday morning.

He was unable to come to the bank in the proper time. It has been discovered here that sheriffs in about thirty other counties may have similar troubles, as their bodies have not yet been recovered.

Fielding Lewis, of Bell Point, a well do citizen, is missing, and he is thought to be the drowned man. The river is being dredged.

Prisoners at Versailles Arrested.

PRINCETON, Ky., Jan. 18.—Mat Franklin, another alleged member of the notorious Howton mob, was arrested in Charleston, Mo., last week, and has been brought to this place and placed in the county jail.

Franklin had been a member of the gang last fall, but left the country.

The officers are close on two or three other alleged members of the gang.

Shed the Wrong Man.

FRANKFORT, Ky., Jan. 18.—An unknown man was seen struggling in the Kentucky river under the L. & N. bridge early Friday morning.

Cries were heard from the water, and a man, who was said to be the drowning man, was pulled ashore.

The officers are close on two or three other alleged members of the gang.

The Fine Stand.

FRANKFORT, Ky., Jan. 18.—The court

announced Friday morning handed down an opinion in the Covington pool room case. The decision affirms the judgment of the trial court in favor of the operators but reversed the part relating to sentence of imprisonment.

Agred Farmer Dies.

LANCASTER, Ky., Jan. 18.—T. W. Balow died Friday of diabetes. He was 70 years old.

Mr. Balow owned a fine farm and leaves a handsome estate to his two children, Mrs. John Burmard and a single daughter.

January and May.

HOPKINSVILLE, Ky., Jan. 18.—James Chapman, who dug up the body of his son, was married in the office of County Clerk Prowes Friday afternoon. Judge Breathitt officiating. The groom is 78 years old and the bride 20 years old.

Felt to the Bottom of a Well.

GREENSBORO, Ky., Jan. 18.—James Chapman, who dug up the body of his son, was married in the office of County Clerk Prowes Friday afternoon. Judge Breathitt officiating. The groom is 78 years old and the bride 20 years old.

DAILY EXCERPT SUNDAY.
THOMAS A. DAVIS,
EDITOR AND OWNER.

(OFFICE—Public Ledger Building No. 200
Third Street, Philadelphia.)

SUBSCRIPTIONS—
One Year $10.00
Six Months $5.00
Three Months $2.50
DELIVERY OF CARRIERS
Two Years $15.00
Annual $7.50
Payable to Carrier at end of month.

TO ADVERTISERS.

Advertising rates uniform and reasonable and made known on application at the office.

Advertisers who fail to get
The Ledger regularly will surely do so if they do not send the fact AT THE OFFICE.

WE'RE FOR AMERICA & AMERICANS!

The Secretary of the Navy has sent to the Senate a letter, in which he says to equip with guns and machinery and put in first class condition for purposes of harbor defense all monitors now in commission or undergoing repairs, would cost $1,000,000.

The true condition of Kentucky's Treasury is now known. Thirty years of "Ring Rule" by the Democracy at Frankfort have left it empty—left it absolutely bankrupt.

Kentucky's Empty Treasury. And in all this time taxation has been increased while no public improvements have been made—and except the perpetuation of that disgraceful "job," the Branch Penitentiary at Eddyville.

All along the Democratic papers have asserted that Keutney was in splendid financial condition—with money to burn.

But now come the hard facts; and here they are as stated by Treasurer Long in an interview:

When he assumed the Office of Treasurer, the following amounts were in the Treasury:

To the credit of the General Expenditure Fund.....	$18,78
To credit of Sinking Fund.....	188,83
To credit of School Fund.....	39,880
Total.....	$153,734

The Sinking Fund is not available for current expenses, being set apart by the Constitution for the payment of the interest and principal of the public debt.

There was due the schoolteachers of the state at the date indicated $40,000, leaving, after deducting the amount on hand in that fund, a deficit in the School Fund of something over $37,000.

The per capita allowance made to 400,000 children last summer was $200 of the amount due the School Fund for this fiscal year, and nearly $200,000 will have to be drawn from next year's fund to complete payment of this year's claims. It will be seen, therefore, that the teachers cannot hope to receive the balance due them until after the banks have paid their taxes in July. They have been fully compensated for this delay by reason of the over payment made to them for this year's work.

In the General Expenditure Fund a worse condition confronts us. The fiscal year begins July 1st and closes June 30th. The revenues for the entire fiscal year, with the exception of about $6,000 due from the Sheriffs, $200,000 from the railroads, and probably $250,000 to be paid from time to time by clerks and others,—had been paid. There was on hand $109,78 to pay accrued obligations and the State Government until June 30th, 1896.

There were outstanding unpaid warrants aggregating about $383,000; claims on file for which no warrants had been issued, $228,000; claims for former appropriations, $176,000; due schoolteachers above funds on hand, $374,000. Besides these there were various sums due to the penitentiaries, officers, etc., which would in all probability raise the deficit on the 6th of January to $1,250,000. In addition to this amount then due we had about six months of the fiscal year to run before the revenues of next fiscal year are available.

The average cost of running the state is over $300,000 a month. So that in addition to the above deficit we must provide for the running expenses of the state for the last half of the year 1895 and '96. This at the average would amount to $1,800,000. Deduct the probable amount to be collected from railroads, clerks, etc., and we find an additional shortage of $1,000,000 by the end of this fiscal year. It is, therefore, clear that it would require at least $2,000,000

SUICIDE.

SOME PECULIAR METHODS OF COMMITTING IT.

Causes That Lead to It.

Some cases of Suicide are brutal and disgusting. Their details fill our horror. Others appeal to our pity and sympathy, both for their reason and result. What more pathetic than Tom Hood's death:

Take her up tenderly—
Lift her with care!
Fashioned so slenderly—
Young and so fair!

Look at her garments,
Clinging like crevices,
Whilst the wave constantly
Drips from her clothing.

Take her up instantly—
Loving, not loathing.

Cross her hands humbly,
As if praying dumbly,
Over her breast.

Owning her weakness,
Her evil behavior,
And leaving with meekness
Her soul to her Savior."

There is suicide by knife, by pistol, by hanging, by drowning, by jumping, by escaping gas, by burning charcoal and by poisons, as morphine, strichnine, arsenic, prussic acid and various other drugs.

But there is a still more common and much more important form of suicide. It is suicide by ignorance or neglect.

A man or woman can as easily and as certainly commit suicide by failing to stir out of the body the poisons and impurities that collect in it.

They are forming every minute and every second of your life—by day and by night.

Every time your brain thinks, your hand moves, your heart beats, your lungs intake, some of their substance break down into waste material.

This waste material is poisonous and nature intends its removal as fast as it is made.

This is the work your kidneys have to do.

If they are weak, sluggish, inactive or diseased they do not do it.

Persons that should be promptly thrown out in the system and clo- and poison every organ.

Perfect kidneys and perfect filtering of all poisons out of the blood.

Pure blood and perfect health are synonymous. Dr. Hobbs' Sprague Kidney Pills make healthy, strong and thriving kidneys and set them to doing their work actively and properly.

They contain the tonic salt and berry principle of the root, stalk and berries of the cranberry, the root, stalk and berries of the sarsaparilla.

Are you committing suicide carelessly, ignorantly or unwittingly by neglecting your kidneys?

Use Dr. Hobbs' Sprague Kidney Pills and be on the safe side.

Only cents per box, from all druggists, or include 50 cents in stamp or silver direct to Dr. Hobbs'

HOBBS'S SPRAGUE KIDNEY PILLS.
MEDICINE CO. CHICAGO SAN FRANCISCO
INTERESTING AND INSTRUCTIVE BOOK ON KIDNEY HEALTH AND BLOOD FILTERING FREE.

to pay all demands against the state at the end of the present fiscal year.

The A. and M. College tax has been collected and turned into the General Fund and paid out for other purposes, and the Treasurer has been forced to replace $12,445 of the out of money coming from other sources.

It is also said that more than $61,000 was tendered the A. and M. College on account of the military bonds due. This money was taken out of the Sinking Fund, but when returned was put into the General Expenditure Fund, and has been paid out to current expense.

Unless the Legislature makes some provisions it will be impossible to pay accrued claims before next fall, and it is useless for parties to try the Treasurer with questions about when these matters can be met. It would give him great pleasure to pay claims promptly, but he cannot do so without money. He has appealed to the legislators for aid and hopes they will do something.

Binghamton's try for the Western does not work thoroughly, covering a uniform brown or black which, when dry will neither rub, wash off or soil less.

THE PRAYER

Of the Chaplain in the House Followed by Applause.

He Prays for the Cuban Who Are Struggling for Wider Liberty.

A Message From the President in regard to Military Law Grants—A New Five Days' Discussion on the Pension's Appropriation Bill Passes the House.

Washington, Jan. 18.—The arrival of the delivery of a pension in the house is an unusual, probably unprecedented, incident in its proceedings, but when Chaplain Condon Friday offered the prayer.

Mr. H. R. Fisher, we thank

Thas for the degree of special liberty which we as a people enjoy, and our hearts go out for those in other lands who are struggling for a wider liberty. We especially pray for the Cubans, and ask that they be right their efforts may be crowned with success. And we pray that our countrymen may do for them all that it can reasonably be expected, to assist in or disregard of their sacred obligations and duties to other nations.

There was a lively outbreak of hand-clapping all over the house, and a shout before the house, asking prompt legislation to further extend the time by which legislation in relation to the forfeiture of railroad grants must be passed, and the pension bureau was read and referred to the committee on public lands.

The house went into committee of the whole, Mr. Dingley (rep., N.Y.) in the chair, and Mr. St. Gaudens (rep., Pa.) to consider the general pension appropriation bill under the five-minute rule.

Mr. Steele (rep., Ind.) offered an amendment providing that the reorganization bill in the pension bureau shall be public and not construed to affect the laws of evidence recognized by the courts in the District of Columbia, and that all papers bearing upon a claim shall be open to the inspection of claimant and his attorney. To this Mr. Dingley moved that it be passed out of order that it changed existing laws and was therefore obnoxious to the rules. After some debate the point of order was sustained.

Mr. Harmon (rep., Ore.) proposed an amendment establishing a one-cent-per-day service pension to every soldier who served more than 90 days, the minimum to be eight dollars a month, and that the same be a non-pecuniary pension paid under any law to a veteran or his widow. Ruled out on a point of order.

Mr. Mahon (rep., Pa.) offered an amendment providing that a pension once granted a vested right, to be disturbed only on a ground of fraud. This was passed over temporally.

After a debate continuing almost until the close of the day, the general pension appropriation bill for the year ending June 30, 1897, was passed by the house Friday afternoon which was adjourned until Monday.

They are forming every minute and every second of your life—by day and by night.

Every time your brain thinks, your hand moves, your heart beats, your lungs intake, some of their substance break down into waste material.

This waste material is poisonous and nature intends its removal as fast as it is made.

This is the work your kidneys have to do.

If they are weak, sluggish, inactive or diseased they do not do it.

Persons that should be promptly thrown out in the system and clo- and poison every organ.

Perfect kidneys and perfect filtering of all poisons out of the blood.

Are you committing suicide carelessly, ignorantly or unwittingly by neglecting your kidneys?

Use Dr. Hobbs' Sprague Kidney Pills and be on the safe side.

Only cents per box, from all druggists, or include 50 cents in stamp or silver direct to Dr. Hobbs'

HOBBS'S SPRAGUE KIDNEY PILLS.
MEDICINE CO. CHICAGO SAN FRANCISCO
INTERESTING AND INSTRUCTIVE BOOK ON KIDNEY HEALTH AND BLOOD FILTERING FREE.

to pay all demands against the state at the end of the present fiscal year.

The A. and M. College tax has been collected and turned into the General Fund and paid out for other purposes, and the Treasurer has been forced to replace $12,445 of the out of money coming from other sources.

It is also said that more than $61,000 was tendered the A. and M. College on account of the military bonds due. This money was taken out of the Sinking Fund, but when returned was put into the General Expenditure Fund, and has been paid out to current expense.

Unless the Legislature makes some provisions it will be impossible to pay accrued claims before next fall, and it is useless for parties to try the Treasurer with questions about when these matters can be met. It would give him great pleasure to pay claims promptly, but he cannot do so without money. He has appealed to the legislators for aid and hopes they will do something.

Binghamton's try for the Western does not work thoroughly, covering a uniform brown or black which, when dry will neither rub, wash off or soil less.

Mr. H. R. Fisher, we thank

Thas for the degree of special liberty which we as a people enjoy, and our hearts go out for those in other lands who are struggling for a wider liberty. We especially pray for the Cubans, and ask that they be right their efforts may be crowned with success. And we pray that our countrymen may do for them all that it can reasonably be expected, to assist in or disregard of their sacred obligations and duties to other nations.

There was a lively outbreak of hand-clapping all over the house, and a shout before the house, asking prompt legislation to further extend the time by which legislation in relation to the forfeiture of railroad grants must be passed, and the pension bureau was read and referred to the committee on public lands.

Mr. H. R. Fisher, we thank

Thas for the degree of special liberty which we as a people enjoy, and our hearts go out for those in other lands who are struggling for a wider liberty. We especially pray for the Cubans, and ask that they be right their efforts may be crowned with success. And we pray that our countrymen may do for them all that it can reasonably be expected, to assist in or disregard of their sacred obligations and duties to other nations.

CONDENSED NEWS

Gathered From All Parts of the Country by Telegraph.

Henry C. West & Co., rice and coffee brokers at 10 Front street, New York, assign a Friday.

Ex-Premier Flouquet, who has been ill for several days with congestion of the lung, is dying.

Two men were ordered $1,000,000 in gold at the New York assay office for shipment to Europe Saturday.

In executive session at St. Louis the popular committee named July 22 next as the date of the national convention.

David Crockett, aged 86, a nephew of the famous scout and trapper, Davy Crockett, is dying at his home in Big Springs township near Shreveport, Ill. His son, the Rev. Frank Crockett, issued an order of discharge from the practice before the department for violation of the pension laws David B. Davis, of Thornton, Ind.

Some of the principal buildings in the business section of the Mexican town were destroyed by fire Friday morning. The guests had a narrow escape. Loss $25,000.

In the international bricklayers' convention at Columbus, O., Friday a charter was granted to the 4,000 independent bricklayers of Chicago who seceded a week ago.

The captain and crew of the schooner "Wasp" have been brought to Boston safe and sound. The schooner was sunk in a collision with a coal barge.

Four pieces received at Colon from British Guiana indicate the likelihood of Great Britain dealing with Venezuela without any regard for the Jilted State's desire to obtain arbitration of the dispute.

The London Central News circulates a report, which it says is unofficial, that the British flying squadron just put into commission is destined for the Iberian Peninsula. This report can not be confirmed.

Frank Lawler, ex-congressman and a member of the common council, a politician of local and national reputation, died yesterday at his home in Chicago. Friday he was within an hour of attachment with what he termed a "sitch in the side."

Charles O. Dorr, manager of the Carthage Stone Co., St. Louis, has died. The company has been doing well since he took charge in January. He was 72 years old.

The Star and Herald carried the news yesterday that Gen. Alvaro, proclaimed chief of the republic of Ecuador, had written a letter to the Spanish government begging Spain to recognize the independence of the country.

Mr. E. C. Morris, the well-known safe manufacturer and dealer, left Boston two weeks ago and has not been heard from since. It has been reported that he forgot the name of his father-in-law, Hon. M. Ames, on notes which will probably aggregate $25,000.

FOR SATURDAY.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—For Kentucky—Fair weather, very cold.

For Ohio (Port Clinton) cloudy weather, light northerly winds.

For Indiana (Indianapolis) variable winds.

For Michigan (Detroit) cold.

For Illinois (Chicago) cold.

For Iowa (Des Moines) cold.

For Missouri (St. Louis) cold.

For Kansas (Topeka) cold.

For Nebraska (Omaha) cold.

For Colorado (Denver) cold.

For Wyoming (Cheyenne) cold.

For Montana (Helena) cold.

For Idaho (Boise) cold.

For Nevada (Carson City) cold.

For California (San Francisco) cold.

For Oregon (Portland) cold.

For Alaska (Sitka) cold.

For Hawaii (Honolulu) cold.

For Samoa (Apia) cold.

For Philippines (Manila) cold.

For Cuba (Havana) cold.

For Puerto Rico (San Juan) cold.

For Mexico (Mexico City) cold.

For Central America (Panama) cold.

For South America (Buenos Ayres) cold.

For Brazil (Rio de Janeiro) cold.

For Argentina (Buenos Ayres) cold.

For Chile (Santiago) cold.

For Uruguay (Montevideo) cold.

For Paraguay (Asuncion) cold.

For Bolivia (La Paz) cold.

For Peru (Lima) cold.

For Ecuador (Quito) cold.

For Chile (Valparaiso) cold.

For Argentina (Buenos Ayres) cold.

For Brazil (Rio de Janeiro) cold.

For Uruguay (Montevideo) cold.

For Chile (Santiago) cold.

For Argentina (Buenos Ayres) cold.

For Brazil (Rio de Janeiro) cold.

For Uruguay (Montevideo) cold.

For Chile (Santiago) cold.

For Argentina (Buenos Ayres) cold.

For Brazil (Rio de Janeiro) cold.

For Uruguay (Montevideo) cold.

For Chile (Santiago) cold.

For Argentina (Buenos Ayres) cold.

For Brazil (Rio de Janeiro) cold.

For Uruguay (Montevideo) cold.

For Chile (Santiago) cold.

For Argentina (Buenos Ayres) cold.

For Brazil (Rio de Janeiro) cold.

For Uruguay (Montevideo) cold.

For Chile (Santiago) cold.

For Argentina (Buenos Ayres) cold.

For Brazil (Rio de Janeiro) cold.

For Uruguay (Montevideo) cold.

For Chile (Santiago) cold.

For Argentina (Buenos Ayres) cold.

For Brazil (Rio de Janeiro) cold.

For Uruguay (Montevideo) cold.

For Chile (Santiago) cold.

For Argentina (Buenos Ayres) cold.

For Brazil (Rio de Janeiro) cold.

For Uruguay (Montevideo) cold.

For Chile (Santiago) cold.

For Argentina (Buenos Ayres) cold.

For Brazil (Rio de Janeiro) cold.

For Uruguay (Montevideo) cold.

For Chile (Santiago) cold.

For Argentina (Buenos Ayres) cold.

For Brazil (Rio de Janeiro) cold.

For Uruguay (Montevideo) cold.

For Chile (Santiago) cold.

For Argentina (Buenos Ayres) cold.

For Brazil (Rio de Janeiro) cold.

For Uruguay (Montevideo) cold.

For Chile (Santiago) cold.

For Argentina (Buenos Ayres) cold.

For Brazil (Rio de Janeiro) cold.

For Uruguay (Montevideo) cold.

For Chile (Santiago) cold.

For Argentina (Buenos Ayres) cold.

For Brazil (Rio de Janeiro) cold.

For Uruguay (Montevideo) cold.

For Chile (Santiago) cold.

For Argentina (Buenos Ayres) cold.

For Brazil (Rio de Janeiro) cold.

For Uruguay (Montevideo) cold.

For Chile (Santiago) cold.

For Argentina (Buenos Ayres) cold.

For Brazil (Rio de Janeiro) cold.

For Uruguay (Montevideo) cold.

For Chile (Santiago) cold.

For Argentina (Buenos Ayres) cold.

For Brazil (Rio de Janeiro) cold.

For Uruguay (Montevideo) cold.

For Chile (Santiago) cold.

For Argentina (Buenos Ayres) cold.

For Brazil (Rio de Janeiro) cold.

For Uruguay (Montevideo) cold.

For Chile (Santiago) cold.

For Argentina (Buenos Ayres) cold.

For Brazil (Rio de Janeiro) cold.

For Uruguay (Montevideo) cold.

For Chile (Santiago) cold.

For Argentina (Buenos Ayres) cold.

For Brazil (Rio de Janeiro) cold.

For Uruguay (Montevideo) cold.

For Chile (

IMMIGRATION.

The Report of Carlisle's Investigating Commission.

It Treats of the Padrons System and of Migratory Laborers.

Also of the Alleged Defects of the Present Immigration Laws—Suggestions Made—A Concise History of Immigration and Emigration Legislation.

New York, Jan. 18.—The report of the immigration investigation committee of the Senate Committee on Immigration, Canada June 13, 1894, has just been published. The report gives a concise history of immigration and immigration legislation, explains the various bills introduced to treat at considerable length the padron system and of migratory laborers, especially those from Canada. The report also treats on the alleged defects of the present immigration laws and recommends certain remedial measures.

The chapters on the padron system and Canadian migratory laborers reveal a bad condition of things. The padron system, it was found, had almost died out, but the shifting about of the country by the padrons of large bodies of Italian workmen already here is common, and this is as serious to our national welfare as direct importation.

"Canadian migratory laborers have for many years been going and coming across the border to the detriment of the wages and standard of living of the American laborer. At least 100,000 persons," says the report, "come into the United States annually from these sections, fully 50 per cent of whom return to their homes at the end of the working season, when they have accumulated a certain amount of money. This 100,000, it is understood, does not include those who come daily into the cities of Buffalo, Detroit and Toledo under contract, and the great lakes. In some cities and towns, notably Detroit and Buffalo, they send their laundry over the border, and those who come and go daily bring their laundry with them. Some even take it home, so that they do not spend a penny in the states."

"The American workingmen ask protection against these Canadian invaders, and can easily understand why Congress does not readily grant it."

In conclusion the report says: "Certain classes in the community have demanded the complete abolition of immigration because of abuses of the naturalization law, or in endeavoring to stop the right of franchises upon newly arrived immigrants, religious or race antagonisms, or because of the discouragement induced by the recent financial depression. But it is evident that, for the sake of standing the financial crisis and the widespread agitation against immigration, a large number of the governors of states have emphasized a desire for immigration."

A large number of suggestions are made with such changes in the present immigration statutes as the commissioners deem necessary.

FORMAL ANNOUNCEMENT.

Of the Engagement of Ex-President Harrison and Mrs. Dimmick—The Wedding Will Take Place After Lent.

New York, Jan. 18.—Ex-President Harrison Friday night formally announced his engagement to Mrs. Dimmick at the Fifth Avenue hotel.

There was a crowd of newsmen at the hotel, and a reporter hotel shortly before 9 o'clock, when Secretary Tibbits appeared and handed them the following:

"Gen. Harrison authorizes the announcement to be made and that the marriage will not take place until after Lent."

Col. Tibbits refused to further discuss the engagement, and, although the expression was upstairs in his room at the time, he denied himself to all newspaper men.

Col. Tibbits said that Gen. Harrison would remain in the city until after Lent, when he would go to Washington, and from there to Washington.

Mrs. Dimmick's full name is Caroline Lord Dimmick. She is the daughter of the late Mr. Lord, the oldest sister of Gen. Harrison's wife. She is the widow of a naval officer. After her husband's death she lived for some time with her mother in Pittsburgh. Mr. Lord died during the time of the Civil War, and his widow was a widow for 20 years.

Mrs. Dimmick's health has been failing for some time, and in the white house, Mrs. Dimmick was her faithful and devoted nurse.

NOTES FOR MILITARY POSTS AND DEFENSES.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—A board of army officers has been appointed to meet at Seattle, Wash., for the purpose of making arrangements for the location of all the sites for a military post and defenses, proposed by the citizens of Seattle, Wash., to be donated to the United States under the provisions of the last amendment to the Constitution.

Notes on a Vacation.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 18.—Hon. J. H. Mulligan, United States consul general at Apia, Samoa, who arrived on the steamer Manoa, is bound for his home at Lexington, Ky., where he will spend a few weeks vacation, the conclusion of which he expects to return to his post.

Wrathless Leaves for a Senator.

ANAPOLIS, Md., Jan. 18.—Another fatal shooting occurred yesterday at the capital. George W. Ladd, a member of the legislative assembly, was shot dead in the lobby of the statehouse by a man who had been captured in the act of shooting at the door of the town hall. The gang, six in number, attempted to run away, and one of them fired five shots at Charles Gilbert, a police officer, but failed to hit him. The other five were captured and fired one shot which took effect in the leader, killing him instantly. Citizens came to the aid of the officers and all the gang save one were captured.

Seven Negro Laborers Killed.

CHESTER, S. C., Jan. 18.—A party of seven negro laborers, employed on the Watauga and Western railroad, who were sleeping in an underground camp, near Williamsburg, this county, were killed Thursday night by the earth above falling on them.

Rapid Fire Gun.

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex., Jan. 18.—Friday afternoon an exciting shooting affair occurred here which resulted in the death of the leader, a gang of bandits who had been robbing the banks and firing one shot which took effect in the leader, killing him instantly. Citizens came to the aid of the officers and all the gang save one were captured.

Seven Negro Laborers Killed.

WATERBURY, Conn., Jan. 18.—A party of seven negro laborers, employed on the Watauga and Western railroad, who were sleeping in an underground camp, near Williamsburg, this county, were killed Thursday night by the earth above falling on them.

Gun Material Shipped.

BETHLEHEM, Pa., Jan. 18.—Many tons of four- and five-inch gun material was shipped Friday night by the Bethlehem Iron Co. to the Washington

FOREIGN RELATIONS.

The Senate Committee Adopts a Resolution Affirming the Monroe Doctrine.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—The Senate committee on foreign relations met at 10 o'clock morning for the purpose of considering the Monroe doctrine now before that committee. All members were present but one.

Senator Gray made an elaborate argument in favor of the resolution affirming the Monroe doctrine, but his argument fell upon deaf ears.

The committee was overwhelmingly in favor of such a resolution. It was proposed by Senator Gray, of Michigan, chairman of the sub-committee, and was, after prolonged discussion, made still stronger in one or two particular cases.

The application of the doctrine to various countries led to a consideration of positions and as soon as members of the committee maintained so dangerous admissions. This the committee intends to obviate by enacting into law a resolution to be introduced in the Senate on Monday evening.

With the diplomatic correspondence of the government need only cite its provisions. The resolution to be reported to the senate is to cover any and all cases.

The committee adjourned at 12:45, after voting to adopt the resolution submitted by Mr. Davis. The committee voted not to give out the text until it is reported to the senate.

SNOW SLIDE.

An Avalanche of the Beautiful! Last evening snowed everything before it.

PORT TOWNSEND, Wash., Jan. 18.—A vast amount of snow has been deposited on the mountain tops into Silver flower basin, near Juneau, Alaska, last week, killing John T. Pearl and destroying a quartz mill and other property worth $40,000. Advice received here Friday morning from the manager of the mine states that the avalanche came with such force as to sweep the ground clean of all buildings in its path. A mining shaft was choked with snow and the debris of the quartz mill and the head of Gold creek and tore a path 200 yards wide for five miles. It struck the protruding point of a mountain, carrying away millions of tons of rock and earth, and rendered inaccessible the mining camp's buildings and carried away the quartz mill, and the building together with the machinery was wiped out of existence. The miners' houses and cabins were swept away, but fortunately the occupants were absent spending the holidays in Juneau, otherwise many deaths would have resulted.

CAMPOS REVELED.

It was over the civil and military government to Gen. and Mrs. Dimmick.

LAJAVANA, Jan. 18.—A meeting of general commanding officers Friday evening at the palace of the captain-general, at which Gen. Campos, president of Brazil, had called to the government at Madrid, stating the result of his conference with the leaders of the political parties and signifying his intention to resign, locally by an order of the emperor, in view of the difficulties existing between the church and the government of the country.

To this dispatch he said that he had already received a reply advising him in view of the difficulties existing between the church and the government of the country.

To this dispatch he said that he had done so far as was possible. Gen. Pando being in Santiago de Cuba, Gen. Marin had taken over the command of the troops, and the responsibility would be shifted to Gen. Pando shortly.

The news that Marshal Campos had practically been relieved of his command caused little excitement in the city.

DOUBLE MURDER.

As Good Farmers and Wife Killed By Fire.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Jan. 18.—News of a horrid double murder for robbery was received Friday in a letter from Flynn's Lick, Jackson county. Five miles from the village, a Mrs. Goodwin, an old farmer who lived near the village, and her son, a boy of 12, were found dead.

He had been shot through the heart, and, according to the coroner, he had failed to find the money. There had been no arrests so far.

Burglar Entrapped by a Little Girl.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 18.—Octavius Spaniard, a burly Negro, was given a long sentence in prison for breaking into a house to commit robbery.

CHICAGO, Jan. 18.—Managers of the big hotel respect the agreement made by the Chicago committee with the democratic national committee at which the former agreed to make arrangements for state delegations, heads up until the national committee has decided to proceed with the election of delegates to the national convention.

"We have got to act. This nation can not afford to permit the Venetian to settle to us in such a manner," said the representative.

The administration may think it all right and in consonance with the spirit of the republic to let the Venetian have land on this side of the water, but congress does not; neither do the people, as will shortly be proved to the satisfaction of every one.

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 18.—The admiralty refuses to either confirm or disown the statement that the new flying boat, which was built for the U. S. government, can be started on the authority of officers attached to the squadron that they believe if they do not go to Perdido they will go to some point in the West Indies and we do not know the nature of the service to be done.

Venezuela's fast of dispatching of the squadron to the West Indies causes some anxiety.

STATE DELEGATIONS.

Chicago Hotels Will Make No Contracts Until National Committee Has Done So.

CHICAGO, Jan. 18.—Managers of the big hotel respect the agreement made by the Chicago committee with the democratic national committee at which the former agreed to make arrangements for state delegations, heads up until the national committee has decided to proceed with the election of delegates to the national convention.

PRAGUE, Jan. 18.—The first day of the new year was observed here with a quietness which was unusual.

COLONIAL, Jan. 18.—The first day of the new year was observed here with a quietness which was unusual.

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—The New Year's Day delegation to the Hotel Astor was received by the manager, Mr. J. W. McElroy, and the members of the delegation were received by the manager.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 18.—The first day of the new year was observed here with a quietness which was unusual.

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 18.—The first day of the new year was observed here with a quietness which was unusual.

DETROIT, Jan. 18.—The first day of the new year was observed here with a quietness which was unusual.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 18.—The first day of the new year was observed here with a quietness which was unusual.

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 18.—The first day of the new year was observed here with a quietness which was unusual.

CHARLOTTE, N. C., Jan. 18.—The first day of the new year was observed here with a quietness which was unusual.

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 18.—The first day of the new year was observed here with a quietness which was unusual.

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 18.—The first day of the new year was observed here with a quietness which was unusual.

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 18.—The first day of the new year was observed here with a quietness which was unusual.

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 18.—The first day of the new year was observed here with a quietness which was unusual.

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 18.—The first day of the new year was observed here with a quietness which was unusual.

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 18.—The first day of the new year was observed here with a quietness which was unusual.

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 18.—The first day of the new year was observed here with a quietness which was unusual.

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 18.—The first day of the new year was observed here with a quietness which was unusual.

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 18.—The first day of the new year was observed here with a quietness which was unusual.

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 18.—The first day of the new year was observed here with a quietness which was unusual.

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 18.—The first day of the new year was observed here with a quietness which was unusual.

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 18.—The first day of the new year was observed here with a quietness which was unusual.

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 18.—The first day of the new year was observed here with a quietness which was unusual.

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 18.—The first day of the new year was observed here with a quietness which was unusual.

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 18.—The first day of the new year was observed here with a quietness which was unusual.

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 18.—The first day of the new year was observed here with a quietness which was unusual.

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 18.—The first day of the new year was observed here with a quietness which was unusual.

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 18.—The first day of the new year was observed here with a quietness which was unusual.

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 18.—The first day of the new year was observed here with a quietness which was unusual.

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 18.—The first day of the new year was observed here with a quietness which was unusual.

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 18.—The first day of the new year was observed here with a quietness which was unusual.

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 18.—The first day of the new year was observed here with a quietness which was unusual.

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 18.—The first day of the new year was observed here with a quietness which was unusual.

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 18.—The first day of the new year was observed here with a quietness which was unusual.

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 18.—The first day of the new year was observed here with a quietness which was unusual.

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 18.—The first day of the new year was observed here with a quietness which was unusual.

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 18.—The first day of the new year was observed here with a quietness which was unusual.

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 18.—The first day of the new year was observed here with a quietness which was unusual.

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 18.—The first day of the new year was observed here with a quietness which was unusual.

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 18.—The first day of the new year was observed here with a quietness which was unusual.

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 18.—The first day of the new year was observed here with a quietness which was unusual.

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 18.—The first day of the new year was observed here with a quietness which was unusual.

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 18.—The first day of the new year was observed here with a quietness which was unusual.

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 18.—The first day of the new year was observed here with a quietness which was unusual.

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 18.—The first day of the new year was observed here with a quietness which was unusual.

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 18.—The first day of the new year was observed here with a quietness which was unusual.

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 18.—The first day of the new year was observed here with a quietness which was unusual.

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 18.—The first day of the new year was observed here with a quietness which was unusual.

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 18.—The first day of the new year was observed here with a quietness which was unusual.

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 18.—The first day of the new year was observed here with a quietness which was unusual.

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 18.—The first day of the new year was observed here with a quietness which was unusual.

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 18.—The first day of the new year was observed here with a quietness which was unusual.

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 18.—The first day of the new year was observed here with a quietness which was unusual.

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 18.—The first day of the new year was observed here with a quietness which was unusual.

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 18.—The first day of the new year was observed here with a quietness which was unusual.

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 18.—The first day of the new year was observed here with a quietness which was unusual.

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 18.—The first day of the new year was observed here with a quietness which was unusual.

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 18.—The first day of the new year was observed here with a quietness which was unusual.

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 18.—The first day of the new year was observed here with a quietness which was unusual.

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 18.—The first day of the new year was observed here with a quietness which was unusual.

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 18.—The first day of the new year was observed here with a quietness which was unusual.

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 18.—The first day of the new year was observed here with a quietness which was unusual.

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 18.—The first day of the new year was observed here with a quietness which was unusual.

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 18.—The first day of the new year was observed here with a quietness which was unusual.

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 18.—The first day of the new year was observed here with a quietness which was unusual.

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 18.—The first day of the new year was observed here with a quietness which was unusual.

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 18.—The first day of the new year was observed here with a quietness which was unusual.

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 18.—The first day of the new year was observed here with a quietness which was unusual.

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 18.—The first day of the new year was observed here with a quietness which was unusual.

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 18.—The first day of the new year was observed here with a quietness which was unusual.

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 18.—The first day of the new year was observed here with a quietness which was unusual.

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 18.—The first day of the new year was observed here with a quietness which was unusual.

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 18.—The first day of the new year was observed here with a quietness which was unusual.

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 18.—The first day of the new year was observed here with a quietness which was unusual.

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 18.—The first day of the new year was observed here with a quietness which was unusual.

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 18.—The first day of the new year was observed here with a quietness which was unusual.

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 18.—The first day of the new year was observed here with a quietness which was unusual.

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 18.—The first day of the new year was observed here with a quietness which was unusual.

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 18.—The first day of the new year was observed here with a quietness which was unusual.

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 18.—The first day of the new year was observed here with a quietness which was unusual.

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 18.—The first day of the new year was observed here with a quietness which was unusual.

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 18.—The first day of the new year was observed here with a quietness which was unusual.

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 18.—The first day of the new year was observed here with a quietness which was unusual.

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 18.—The first day of the new year was observed here with a quietness which was unusual.

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 18.—The first day of the new year was observed here with a quietness which was unusual.

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 18.—The first day of the new year was observed here with a quietness which was unusual.

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 18.—The first day of the new year was observed here with a quietness which was unusual.

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 18.—The first day of the new year was observed here with a quietness which was unusual.

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 18.—The first day of the new year was observed here with a quietness which was unusual.

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 18.—The first day of the new year was observed here with a quietness which was unusual.

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 18.—The first day of the new year was observed here with a quietness which was unusual.

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 18.—The first day of the new year was observed here with a quietness which was unusual.

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 18.—The first day of the new year was observed here with a quietness which was unusual.

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 18.—The first day of the new year was observed here with a quietness which was unusual.

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 18.—The first day of the new year was observed here with a quietness which was unusual.

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 18.—The first day of the new year was observed here with a quietness which was unusual.

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 18.—The first day of the new year was observed here with a quietness which was unusual.

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 18.—The first day of the new year was observed here with a quietness which was unusual.

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 18.—The first day of the new year was observed here with a quietness which was unusual.

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 18.—The first day of the new year was observed here with a quietness which was unusual.

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 18.—The first day of the new year was observed here with a quietness which was unusual.

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 18.—The first day of the new year was observed here with a quietness which was unusual.

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 18.—The first day of the new year was observed here with a quietness which was unusual.

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 18.—The first day of the new year was observed here with a quietness which was unusual.

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 18.—The first day of the new year was observed here with a quietness which was unusual.

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 18.—The first day of the new year was observed here with a quietness which was unusual.

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 18.—The first day of the new year was observed here with a quietness which was unusual.

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 18.—The first day of the new year was observed here with a quietness which was unusual.

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 18.—The first day of the new year was observed here with a quietness which was unusual.

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 18.—The first day of the new year was observed here with a quietness which was unusual.

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 18.—The first day of the new year was observed here with a quietness which was unusual.

Highest of all in Leavening Power.—Latest U.S. Gov't Report

Royal Baking Powder

ABSOLUTELY PURE

The Editor of THE LEDGER is not responsible for the opinions expressed by Correspondents; but nothing reflecting upon the character or habits of any person will be admitted to these columns.

Correspondents will please send Letters to the Editor of THE LEDGER at 9 a.m. Give us time to act as far as possible. We want news to this department, and not advertising notices or political documents.

OUR AGENTS.
The following are authorized Agents for THE PUBLIC LEDGER in their respective local towns:

- Moscow—Frank W. Hawes.
- Sardis—B. G. Grigsby.
- Springfield—J. C. Johnson.
- Montgomery—Charles Wheeler.
- Youngstown—John H. Fawcett.
- McGraw—Kelly & Fawcett.
- Aspinwall—Wm. F. Fawcett.
- Deerfield—W. W. Williams.
- Bethel—George H. Fawcett.
- Mr. Olden—Jacob Thomas.

Subscribers will save the trouble of letter writing by sending the transcript of their Agent at their place.

OCCURRING AT GEORGETOWN.

What The Ledger's Correspondent Records From That Pleasant Vicinity.

Dr. Ford was in town yesterday. We are having fine winter weather. Mrs. H. B. Taylor is on the sick list. Trading is the order of the day in our town. Mr. James Hoe moved in town one day this week.

Mrs. Evelyn Wallmeyer is quite sick at this time.

John How went to Mayville on business Monday.

Mr. Grant Wilson visited his parents Saturday.

Mrs. Mamie Wilson of Elizabethtown visited her mother Tuesday.

Mrs. Arch Haas visited her aunt, Mrs. A. M. Coates, Saturday.

Frank R. Davis made a business trip to Mayville Tuesday.

Mr. J. W. Coulter is about to build a home in our town for himself.

Mrs. Julia Valentine of Georgetown, the pleasant hostess of the "Valentine Room."

Miss Nannie Shaffer is visiting her cousin Miss Lillian of the Fifth Ward, Mayville.

Misses Ade Brownning and Lillian Davenport have returned home from a visit to their cousin Mary Horan.

Charles Calvert's contemplated marriage has been delayed again. He has a contract to go to sea for oil.

Mrs. B. G. Applegate celebrated her 66th birthday Monday, and all her children and grandchildren were present.

How rough and muddy does a turnpike have to be before the horses and teamsters, who travel the mud-spangled Pike one day last week and I saw something ahead, and when I came up to it saw two horses and a man with a load of lumber. The horses had sunk in the mud up to their knees and the wagon to the axles.

For a pain in the chest, Dr. James has had many patients. His plan Balm and liniment on the seat of the saddle, another on the back between the shoulders, will afford prompt relief. This is especially valuable in cases where the pain is caused by a cold and there is a tendency toward pneumonia. For sale by J. Jas. Wood, Drugist.

Cheerio with a Cough Syrup will relieve you quickly. Only 25 cents a bottle. Try it.

FREE ADVERTISING.

Advertisement under the heading of "Help Wanted," "Situations Wanted," "Jobs Found," etc., on accepting basis, and not to exceed three lines, on this page, are FREE to all.

No Business Advertisements accepted out-of-pocket.

If you want to see the realities, write to me as many repetitions or any necessary to secure what you deserve for. Give the advertisers to feel that they are not imposing on us by using our free columns.

Advertisers will be left our office or sent through the mail to

THE PUBLIC LEDGER COMPANY,
No. 16 E. Third Street,

WANTED.

A first-class Blacksmith and Wood-worker.—This is one of the best hands in the state. Address to A. E. CALY, 16 E. Third Street, Louisville.

WANTED.—Agents everywhere to canvas for my new product. Address to W. E. CALY, 16 E. Third Street, Louisville.

WANTED.—To lend, on improved real estate, $1000 per year, at guaranteed rate of 6% per cent, and other.

A. E. CALY & SONS.

FOR RENT.

To a responsible party, the splendid house at 16 E. Third Street, $1000 per month. Call immediately at 16 E. Third Street.

FOR SALE.

FROM HOME—Guaranteed 8 per cent, and 10 per cent bonds. Coupons payable semi-annually.

LODGE.

Two German Lodges, one a large room, containing a bed, chair, desk, etc., can be had for $100. Rent to be paid at time of purchase.

FOUNDED.—A large chain, however, Mayville and surrounding towns, can be had for $100. Rent to be paid at time of purchase.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER.

Many merchants are well aware that their customers are their best friends and take pleasure in supplying them with the best goods obtainable. As an instance we mention Perry & Carpenter, prominent druggists of Flushing, Michigan. They say: "We have no hesitation in recommending Royal Baking Powder, because our customers tell us it is the best cough medicine we have ever sold, and always gives satisfaction." For sale at 25 and 50 cents per bottle by J. Jas. Wood, Drugist.

JOB PRINTING!

WE PRINT
EVERYTHING THAT CAN BE PRINTED!

PUBLIC LEDGER
PRINTER.

RIDING ON THE RAIL!

What the Great Steel Highways Offer to Travelers.

333 to El Paso, Tex., and Return.

On February 9th, 9th, 10th, 11th and 12th, the Iron Mountain Route, in connection with the Northern Pacific, will run round-trip excursion tickets from St. Louis, Mo., round-trip excursion tickets to El Paso, Tex., at above-mentioned rates for the round trip, tickets good until February 25th, and by deposit of $10.00 each, tickets may be had in addition to the round-trip rates which can be secured if desired.

The taste bulbs form in part the ends of the organ of taste. These vary in number, increasing in the higher animals.

They are very close and exceedingly numerous in man, while the tongue of even the dog has some thirty-five thousand taste bulbs.

It would be interesting to know, but I have never seen the question discussed, whether each special taste exerts a special group of nerves, and that only—thus corresponding to the auditory nerves.

These taste bulbs were discovered in 1867. Each one consists of two kinds of cells, one set forming an outer protective covering, the other being the taste cells, which project from five to ten of the true taste cells. Though important, they are not apparently an essential part of the organ, for birds and reptiles have none, but neither have they a sense of taste—except, perhaps, the parrot.

A horse constrictor that was nearly blind was once found to be contentedly swallowing a blanket for dinner instead of raw meat, which was also within reach and was easily within grasp, though she was too fond of disgorge this singular article of food.

A snake's tongue is, therefore, not an organ of taste, nor is it, as many think, a sting. It is more probably a delicate organ of touch.

The taste bulbs were discovered in 1867. Each one consists of two kinds of cells, one set forming an outer protective covering, the other being the taste cells, which project from five to ten of the true taste cells. Though important, they are not apparently an essential part of the organ, for birds and reptiles have none, but neither have they a sense of taste—except, perhaps, the parrot.

A horse constrictor that was nearly blind was once found to be contentedly swallowing a blanket for dinner instead of raw meat, which was also within reach and was easily within grasp, though she was too fond of disgorge this singular article of food.

A snake's tongue is, therefore, not an organ of taste, nor is it, as many think, a sting. It is more probably a delicate organ of touch.

The taste bulbs form in part the ends of the organ of taste. These vary in number, increasing in the higher animals.

They are very close and exceedingly numerous in man, while the tongue of even the dog has some thirty-five thousand taste bulbs.

It would be interesting to know, but I have never seen the question discussed, whether each special taste exerts a special group of nerves, and that only—thus corresponding to the auditory nerves.

These taste bulbs were discovered in 1867. Each one consists of two kinds of cells, one set forming an outer protective covering, the other being the taste cells, which project from five to ten of the true taste cells. Though important, they are not apparently an essential part of the organ, for birds and reptiles have none, but neither have they a sense of taste—except, perhaps, the parrot.

A horse constrictor that was nearly blind was once found to be contentedly swallowing a blanket for dinner instead of raw meat, which was also within reach and was easily within grasp, though she was too fond of disgorge this singular article of food.

A snake's tongue is, therefore, not an organ of taste, nor is it, as many think, a sting. It is more probably a delicate organ of touch.

The taste bulbs form in part the ends of the organ of taste. These vary in number, increasing in the higher animals.

They are very close and exceedingly numerous in man, while the tongue of even the dog has some thirty-five thousand taste bulbs.

It would be interesting to know, but I have never seen the question discussed, whether each special taste exerts a special group of nerves, and that only—thus corresponding to the auditory nerves.

These taste bulbs were discovered in 1867. Each one consists of two kinds of cells, one set forming an outer protective covering, the other being the taste cells, which project from five to ten of the true taste cells. Though important, they are not apparently an essential part of the organ, for birds and reptiles have none, but neither have they a sense of taste—except, perhaps, the parrot.

A horse constrictor that was nearly blind was once found to be contentedly swallowing a blanket for dinner instead of raw meat, which was also within reach and was easily within grasp, though she was too fond of disgorge this singular article of food.

A snake's tongue is, therefore, not an organ of taste, nor is it, as many think, a sting. It is more probably a delicate organ of touch.

The taste bulbs form in part the ends of the organ of taste. These vary in number, increasing in the higher animals.

They are very close and exceedingly numerous in man, while the tongue of even the dog has some thirty-five thousand taste bulbs.

It would be interesting to know, but I have never seen the question discussed, whether each special taste exerts a special group of nerves, and that only—thus corresponding to the auditory nerves.

These taste bulbs were discovered in 1867. Each one consists of two kinds of cells, one set forming an outer protective covering, the other being the taste cells, which project from five to ten of the true taste cells. Though important, they are not apparently an essential part of the organ, for birds and reptiles have none, but neither have they a sense of taste—except, perhaps, the parrot.

A horse constrictor that was nearly blind was once found to be contentedly swallowing a blanket for dinner instead of raw meat, which was also within reach and was easily within grasp, though she was too fond of disgorge this singular article of food.

A snake's tongue is, therefore, not an organ of taste, nor is it, as many think, a sting. It is more probably a delicate organ of touch.

The taste bulbs form in part the ends of the organ of taste. These vary in number, increasing in the higher animals.

They are very close and exceedingly numerous in man, while the tongue of even the dog has some thirty-five thousand taste bulbs.

It would be interesting to know, but I have never seen the question discussed, whether each special taste exerts a special group of nerves, and that only—thus corresponding to the auditory nerves.

These taste bulbs were discovered in 1867. Each one consists of two kinds of cells, one set forming an outer protective covering, the other being the taste cells, which project from five to ten of the true taste cells. Though important, they are not apparently an essential part of the organ, for birds and reptiles have none, but neither have they a sense of taste—except, perhaps, the parrot.

A horse constrictor that was nearly blind was once found to be contentedly swallowing a blanket for dinner instead of raw meat, which was also within reach and was easily within grasp, though she was too fond of disgorge this singular article of food.

A snake's tongue is, therefore, not an organ of taste, nor is it, as many think, a sting. It is more probably a delicate organ of touch.

The taste bulbs form in part the ends of the organ of taste. These vary in number, increasing in the higher animals.

They are very close and exceedingly numerous in man, while the tongue of even the dog has some thirty-five thousand taste bulbs.

It would be interesting to know, but I have never seen the question discussed, whether each special taste exerts a special group of nerves, and that only—thus corresponding to the auditory nerves.

These taste bulbs were discovered in 1867. Each one consists of two kinds of cells, one set forming an outer protective covering, the other being the taste cells, which project from five to ten of the true taste cells. Though important, they are not apparently an essential part of the organ, for birds and reptiles have none, but neither have they a sense of taste—except, perhaps, the parrot.

A horse constrictor that was nearly blind was once found to be contentedly swallowing a blanket for dinner instead of raw meat, which was also within reach and was easily within grasp, though she was too fond of disgorge this singular article of food.

A snake's tongue is, therefore, not an organ of taste, nor is it, as many think, a sting. It is more probably a delicate organ of touch.

The taste bulbs form in part the ends of the organ of taste. These vary in number, increasing in the higher animals.

They are very close and exceedingly numerous in man, while the tongue of even the dog has some thirty-five thousand taste bulbs.

It would be interesting to know, but I have never seen the question discussed, whether each special taste exerts a special group of nerves, and that only—thus corresponding to the auditory nerves.

These taste bulbs were discovered in 1867. Each one consists of two kinds of cells, one set forming an outer protective covering, the other being the taste cells, which project from five to ten of the true taste cells. Though important, they are not apparently an essential part of the organ, for birds and reptiles have none, but neither have they a sense of taste—except, perhaps, the parrot.

A horse constrictor that was nearly blind was once found to be contentedly swallowing a blanket for dinner instead of raw meat, which was also within reach and was easily within grasp, though she was too fond of disgorge this singular article of food.

A snake's tongue is, therefore, not an organ of taste, nor is it, as many think, a sting. It is more probably a delicate organ of touch.

The taste bulbs form in part the ends of the organ of taste. These vary in number, increasing in the higher animals.

They are very close and exceedingly numerous in man, while the tongue of even the dog has some thirty-five thousand taste bulbs.

It would be interesting to know, but I have never seen the question discussed, whether each special taste exerts a special group of nerves, and that only—thus corresponding to the auditory nerves.

These taste bulbs were discovered in 1867. Each one consists of two kinds of cells, one set forming an outer protective covering, the other being the taste cells, which project from five to ten of the true taste cells. Though important, they are not apparently an essential part of the organ, for birds and reptiles have none, but neither have they a sense of taste—except, perhaps, the parrot.

A horse constrictor that was nearly blind was once found to be contentedly swallowing a blanket for dinner instead of raw meat, which was also within reach and was easily within grasp, though she was too fond of disgorge this singular article of food.

A snake's tongue is, therefore, not an organ of taste, nor is it, as many think, a sting. It is more probably a delicate organ of touch.

The taste bulbs form in part the ends of the organ of taste. These vary in number, increasing in the higher animals.

They are very close and exceedingly numerous in man, while the tongue of even the dog has some thirty-five thousand taste bulbs.

It would be interesting to know, but I have never seen the question discussed, whether each special taste exerts a special group of nerves, and that only—thus corresponding to the auditory nerves.

These taste bulbs were discovered in 1867. Each one consists of two kinds of cells, one set forming an outer protective covering, the other being the taste cells, which project from five to ten of the true taste cells. Though important, they are not apparently an essential part of the organ, for birds and reptiles have none, but neither have they a sense of taste—except, perhaps, the parrot.

A horse constrictor that was nearly blind was once found to be contentedly swallowing a blanket for dinner instead of raw meat, which was also within reach and was easily within grasp, though she was too fond of disgorge this singular article of food.

A snake's tongue is, therefore, not an organ of taste, nor is it, as many think, a sting. It is more probably a delicate organ of touch.

The taste bulbs form in part the ends of the organ of taste. These vary in number, increasing in the higher animals.

They are very close and exceedingly numerous in man, while the tongue of even the dog has some thirty-five thousand taste bulbs.

It would be interesting to know, but I have never seen the question discussed, whether each special taste exerts a special group of nerves, and that only—thus corresponding to the auditory nerves.

These taste bulbs were discovered in 1867. Each one consists of two kinds of cells, one set forming an outer protective covering, the other being the taste cells, which project from five to ten of the true taste cells. Though important, they are not apparently an essential part of the organ, for birds and reptiles have none, but neither have they a sense of taste—except, perhaps, the parrot.

A horse constrictor that was nearly blind was once found to be contentedly swallowing a blanket for dinner instead of raw meat, which was also within reach and was easily within grasp, though she was too fond of disgorge this singular article of food.

A snake's tongue is, therefore, not an organ of taste, nor is it, as many think, a sting. It is more probably a delicate organ of touch.

The taste bulbs form in part the ends of the organ of taste. These vary in number, increasing in the higher animals.

They are very close and exceedingly numerous in man, while the tongue of even the dog has some thirty-five thousand taste bulbs.

It would be interesting to know, but I have never seen the question discussed, whether each special taste exerts a special group of nerves, and that only—thus corresponding to the auditory nerves.

These taste bulbs were discovered in 1867. Each one consists of two kinds of cells, one set forming an outer protective covering, the other being the taste cells, which project from five to ten of the true taste cells. Though important, they are not apparently an essential part of the organ, for birds and reptiles have none, but neither have they a sense of taste—except, perhaps, the parrot.

A horse constrictor that was nearly blind was once found to be contentedly swallowing a blanket for dinner instead of raw meat, which was also within reach and was easily within grasp, though she was too fond of disgorge this singular article of food.

A snake's tongue is, therefore, not an organ of taste, nor is it, as many think, a sting. It is more probably a delicate organ of touch.

The taste bulbs form in part the ends of the organ of taste. These vary in number, increasing in the higher animals.

They are very close and exceedingly numerous in man, while the tongue of even the dog has some thirty-five thousand taste bulbs.

It would be interesting to know, but I have never seen the question discussed, whether each special taste exerts a special group of nerves, and that only—thus corresponding to the auditory nerves.

These taste bulbs were discovered in 1867. Each one consists of two kinds of cells, one set forming an outer protective covering, the other being the taste cells, which project from five to ten of the true taste cells. Though important, they are not apparently an essential part of the organ, for birds and reptiles have none, but neither have they a sense of taste—except, perhaps, the parrot.

A horse constrictor that was nearly blind was once found to be contentedly swallowing a blanket for dinner instead of raw meat, which was also within reach and was easily within grasp, though she was too fond of disgorge this singular article of food.

A snake's tongue is, therefore, not an organ of taste, nor is it, as many think, a sting. It is more probably a delicate organ of touch.

The taste bulbs form in part the ends of the organ of taste. These vary in number, increasing in the higher animals.

They are very close and exceedingly numerous in man, while the tongue of even the dog has some thirty-five thousand taste bulbs.

It would be interesting to know, but I have never seen the question discussed, whether each special taste exerts a special group of nerves, and that only—thus corresponding to the auditory nerves.

These taste bulbs were discovered in 1867. Each one consists of two kinds of cells, one set forming an outer protective covering, the other being the taste cells, which project from five to ten of the true taste cells. Though important, they are not apparently an essential part of the organ, for birds and reptiles have none, but neither have they a sense of taste—except, perhaps, the parrot.

A horse constrictor that was nearly blind was once found to be contentedly swallowing a blanket for dinner instead of raw meat, which was also within reach and was easily within grasp, though she was too fond of disgorge this singular article of food.

A snake's tongue is, therefore, not an organ of taste, nor is it, as many think, a sting. It is more probably a delicate organ of touch.

The taste bulbs form in part the ends of the organ of taste. These vary in number, increasing in the higher animals.

They are very close and exceedingly numerous in man, while the tongue of even the dog has some thirty-five thousand taste bulbs.

It would be interesting to know, but I have never seen the question discussed, whether each special taste exerts a special group of nerves, and that only—thus corresponding to the auditory nerves.

These taste bulbs were discovered in 1867. Each one consists of two kinds of cells, one set forming an outer protective covering, the other being the taste cells, which project from five to ten of the true taste cells. Though important, they are not apparently an essential part of the organ, for birds and reptiles have none, but neither have they a sense of taste—except, perhaps, the parrot.

A horse constrictor that was nearly blind was once found to be contentedly swallowing a blanket for dinner instead of raw meat, which was also within reach and was easily within grasp, though she was too fond of disgorge this singular article of food.

A snake's tongue is, therefore, not an organ of taste, nor is it, as many think, a sting. It is more probably a delicate organ of touch.

The taste bulbs form in part the ends of the organ of taste. These vary in number, increasing in the higher animals.

They are very close and exceedingly numerous in man, while the tongue of even the dog has some thirty-five thousand taste bulbs.

It would be interesting to know, but I have never seen the question discussed, whether each special taste exerts a special group of nerves, and that only—thus corresponding to the auditory nerves.

These taste bulbs were discovered in 1867. Each one consists of two kinds of cells, one set forming an outer protective covering, the other being the taste cells, which project from five to ten of the true taste cells. Though important, they are not apparently an essential part of the organ, for birds and reptiles have none, but neither have they a sense of taste—except, perhaps, the parrot.

A horse constrictor that was nearly blind was once found to be contentedly swallowing a blanket for dinner instead of raw meat, which was also within reach and was easily within grasp, though she was too fond of disgorge this singular article of food.

A snake's tongue is, therefore, not an organ of taste, nor is it, as many think, a sting. It is more probably a delicate organ of touch.

The taste bulbs form in part the ends of the organ of taste. These vary in number, increasing in the higher animals.

They are very close and exceedingly numerous in man, while the tongue of even the dog has some thirty-five thousand taste bulbs.

It would be interesting to know, but I have never seen the question discussed, whether each special taste exerts a special group of nerves, and that only—thus corresponding to the auditory nerves.

These taste bulbs were discovered in 1867. Each one consists of two kinds of cells, one set forming an outer protective covering, the other being the taste cells, which project from five to ten of the true taste cells. Though important, they are not apparently an essential part of the organ, for birds and reptiles have none, but neither have they a sense of taste—except, perhaps, the parrot.

A horse constrictor that was nearly blind was once found to be contentedly swallowing a blanket for dinner instead of raw meat, which was also within reach and was easily within grasp, though she was too fond of disgorge this singular article of food.

A snake's tongue is, therefore, not an organ of taste, nor is it, as many think, a sting. It is more probably a delicate organ of touch.

The taste bulbs form in part the ends of the organ of taste. These vary in number, increasing in the higher animals.

They are very close and exceedingly numerous in man, while the tongue of even the dog has some thirty-five thousand taste bulbs.

It would be interesting to know, but I have never seen the question discussed, whether each special taste exerts a special group of nerves, and that only—thus corresponding to the auditory nerves.

These taste bulbs were discovered in 1867. Each one consists of two kinds of cells, one set forming an outer protective covering, the other being the taste cells, which project from five to ten of the true taste cells. Though important, they are not apparently an essential part of the organ, for birds and reptiles have none, but neither have they a sense of taste—except, perhaps, the parrot.

A horse constrictor that was nearly blind was once found to be contentedly swallowing a blanket for dinner instead of raw meat, which was also within reach and was easily within grasp, though she was too fond of disgorge this singular article of food.

A snake's tongue is, therefore, not an organ of taste, nor is it, as many think, a sting. It is more probably a delicate organ of touch.

The taste bulbs form in part the ends of the organ of taste. These vary in number, increasing in the higher animals.

They are very close and exceedingly numerous in man, while the tongue of even the dog has some thirty-five thousand taste bulbs.

It would be interesting to know, but I have never seen the question discussed, whether each special taste exerts a special group of nerves, and that only—thus corresponding to the auditory nerves.

These taste bulbs were discovered in 1867. Each one consists of two kinds of cells, one set forming an outer protective covering, the other being the taste cells, which project from five to ten of the true taste cells. Though important, they are not apparently an essential part of the organ, for birds and reptiles have none, but neither have they a sense of taste—except, perhaps, the parrot.

A horse constrictor that was nearly blind was once found to be contentedly swallowing a blanket for dinner instead of raw meat, which was also within reach and was easily within grasp, though she was too fond of disgorge this singular article of food.

A snake's tongue is, therefore, not an organ of taste, nor is it, as many think, a sting. It is more probably a delicate organ of touch.

The taste bulbs form in part the ends of the organ of taste. These vary in number, increasing in the higher animals.